Request to cut closer and tighter renders vest breathless

2 LINEN POCKETS

Ill-fitting items to be exchanged between 1:00 and 2:00 P.M.

Ceremonial Uniform

Sartorially significant garmets glittering with gold lace and silver threads

Pressed Bouclé Yarn

TEXTILE REQUEST FORWARDED TO THE EARL OF CARDIGAN

Bullion Braid

Paradigm shift in attire apparent after home steamer emerges

PENN AVENUE TAILOR

2 SETS OF TROUSERS THOUGH EFFICIENT WON'T LAST

Turkish Delight

Having followed your adventures for the last few years

100 POINT

Rg? & x â y { 7/8

16 & 32 POINT

Supposed to be included in entry level landing despite the floor plan

Central driving engine, in the way

Physically possible, gentler typing style testing the limits of keyboard

[SPOILER ALERT] HE WENT HOME

Indicate that you're already in the holiday season: sweaters optional

Early response time; mid-1997 call

Six-month fellowship occupying a place of failure with some degree

DEFAULT TO THE LEFT-SIDE JACK

Picked from previous order to complete transaction without looking

Very much, figuratively, palm rejection

Now the new recipe functions with or without kitchen display port

HISTORICALLY ACCURATE THING

Of course, success can't be argued unless you are already hooked up

100 POINT

Ga! Ě 3 A J ě t Q

16 & 32 POINT

Paragraph working as title song, reached apogee many pages back

Ensnared suitor, ostracized again

Shiver of fear now felt, beauty & wit wiped free, conflict is revealed

CHARACTER SKEPTICAL {53→681}

Imagined it would be, competes openly on multiples, Calcutta now home

long term, obliquely suspicious, right

Thanks for stopping by, novels include The Later & Home Comedian

(3@5) ELIMINATED & BOOSTING

Outlets possible throughout the day, at least institutions, arrived speaking

Passenger Given Planning Source

Arrived in area of volunteers, then passed appointed commuters

SHOWN BELOW FOLDING LAYER

Pointing to alternate location, areas 45 & 78 seemed most welcome

100 POINT

K @ p S i 8) m

16 & 32 POINT

Every once in a while the light doesn't go on, you've lost another

Day 145 Entry: -28° Temperature

People remember belonging to it, time-sensitive orders fulfilled

ECOSYSTEM FOLLOWED ACCENT

Accepted default if we can pick it a part, 13% of participants claim

Situationally, literal boiling point

Forums somewhere with typical configuration, destined merger

FLOWERING BLOOMS BORDERED

Their first performance, our first impression—top of the line constraint

Immediately Recorded (Quietly)

Call some people and completely get used to it, for some reason

SOMETHING LARGER THAN 25LB

Actually, could you get on a plane and go? I'm getting back today

100 POINT

Bějo]RqlÉ

16 & 32 POINT

End of second week, working silently, captive with audience

RETURNED GLARING AUDIBLE

In retrospect, early twenties problematic for tackling larger books

Audio remains transcendental

Decision problematic, 25% versed in modernity, traditionally

HANDED TISSUE & BLUBBERING

Terrible admission, in terms of romance, descriptively open

Messaging decision searching

Arranged (not by title, but publication date) openly discordant

DIFFERENT HOUR ADJUSTMENT

Early August, emblazoned with, (as, or) crinkling magnolias

Suddenly Hollow Respectively

Issued from small speaker, lopped off response, 36 still rumbling

THE TRIMMING YOU REQUESTED turned out well considering I'm new to such things. Still it leaves me with a few questions. For instance, why do any of this by hand? If I had used the lawn mower on the hedges then they would be lower in the first place. Okay, sure, they would be really low, but think how much fuel we'll save over the long run. Right I know, keep doing it by hand and there'd be no use for fuel, but you need to think more openly, even radically. The entire grounds would have a much lower appearance, almost like a flat-top haircut. You know, like barbers used to give. Except, instead of centimeters, think in terms of acres, basically the entire grounds cleaned up real tidy in a mannered level shape. Now, the watering instructions all made perfect sense considering the roses have been moved to a new area. Keep in mind, as a reluctant groundskeeper, my laziness is of a proportion that can modestly be described as epic. Like, do you really expect me to water in such warm weather? Seems only logical that

Now, the watering instructions all made perfect sense considering the roses have been moved to a new area. Keep in mind, as a reluctant groundskeeper, my laziness is of a proportion that can modestly be described as epic. Like, do you really expect me to water in such warm weather? Seems only logical that roses could lift a finger and turn on the water themselves. If they really need it that much. Or how about this: the watering system could be activated by cell phone! You know, make a call and the system turns on. Of course I couldn't do that though. Aside from being a lot to ask, you don't pay me enough to afford a cell phone so naturally I couldn't activate the system. Oh I see, if you added me to the group plan, the phone for the roses would be cheaper. But we're getting a little off topic and the issue remains how inefficient the entire process is. I mean, first of all, you didn't even plant this stuff to begin with and you're definitely not going to live forever. No matter how much I snip on top, these roots aren't going to go anywhere but down and out. The hedges are here to stay so back to radical ideas, some real rethinking. What if we flipped the entire thing, brought up the dirt and paved it all. There's a free park just down the road, don't forget, and that's a plenty good place to see some green and save on all this maintenance. I realize I just talked myself out of a job but like I said, I'm new to such things and am inclined
